

Objective, Big Idea & Biblical Focus:

Help participants understand the concepts of LifeCall and LifeCore before they start to unpack it personally.

BIG IDEA: When we are clear on our convictions it enables us to move flexibly in the world without compromising.

How it Works:

Give the Coconut vs Peach metaphor by Erwin McManus.

Illustration point: When you don't know what is important to you, you won't let go of anything for fear that it may be important eventually.

This makes for a hard exterior (what people get from you) and a soft, uncertain interior (what you deal with internally).

If LifeCall is who you are and what you're called to do, LifeCore is the deepest motivations or values that guide your behavior. LifeCall is what you can't help but do and LifeCore is what you can't live without. Together they are the support beams of your Personal Vision Frame.

"If you don't know who you are called to be you will be whatever people pay you to be" - Dave Rhodes.

Coaching Tips:

Move through the illustration quickly while making the important connections to Vision Frame.

Reference:

Journey 1, pg. 79

Session 8

Living from LifeCall and LifeCore taken from the book "Wide Awake: The Future is Waiting Within You" by Erwin McManus

REFLECTIONS:

"If you don't know who you are created to be, you will become whatever people pay you to be." — Dave Rhodes

